AT GERMAN CHURCH.
Gift of Rev. Theodor Bauck and Dedicated on Sunday.

A new baptismal font, which was a gift to the German Lutheran church from its pastor, Rev. Theodor Bauck, was dedicated on Sunday at the morning service of the church, and then used for baptism. The first to be baptized was the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lorenz Geigenmueller of Lisbon. The baby was nine or ten days old and received the name of Alfred Lorenz Geigenmueller.

After the liturgy for the morning service the dedication of the font took place, followed by the baptism of a child and the examination of the confirmation class of twenty who will be confirmed next Sunday.
The new font is one of much beauty, made in white and gold to harmonize perfectly with the new altar that was put in at the time of the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the church last October. The congregation expressed the warmest thanks to Pastor Bauck for the gift, which represents a considerable monetary outlay and is a valued addition to the appointments of the church.APPARATUS EXHIBITED
ON UNION SQUARE.

Wagon Pipe Known as the Invincible Displayed and Local Nozzles to Equal It Shown.

On Monday noon there was an exhibition of a wagon pipe by E. W. Sibley, representing a Boston house manufacturing the pipe, the exhibit taking place in Union square for an hour after 1 o'clock. Several size nozzles were tried out, although the largest nozzle used was 1 3/8 inches. The aerial truck and apparatus in the center of the city were there, the hose being attached to the hydrant in front of Jenne's store.

Following the demonstration of the wagon pipe, Chief Stanton allowed G. O. Robinson of the Eastman company to show what the local department has in the way of equipment, so that the wagon pipe is not needed here. All the companies have the Eastman deluge set and as Mr. Robinson was in town he was allowed to direct the exhibit of that apparatus. Stairways were thrown as large as 2 1/8 inches in diameter and fine work done. The fire commissioners witnessed the test.
Mr. Robinson stated that in all his travels he has found a department as well equipped as is the Norwich department, and he was particularly interested in the horses. They are better maintained than in any department he has seen and he spoke particularly of the uniform color.Rainfall and Reservoir.
The rainfall on Sunday night amounted to .09 of an inch and Fairview reservoir on Monday measured 79 inches below high water mark.

OBITUARY.

George Albert West.
George Albert West, aged 73, died about 3.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Middletown. Mr. West had been in poor health for some time, being afflicted with Bright's disease and heart trouble. He was unable to leave his bed, however, Saturday morning, and he rapidly grew worse until the end came.

The deceased was born in Greenville, and he had spent all his life in Norwich. He was the son of Keen and Eliza Ann (Peters) West. Mr. West was a carpenter by trade and learned the rudiments of that vocation in the employ of the late D. W. Perkins, and his father worked for quite a number of different contractors until his health failed, several years ago, because of a bad fall from a building. Mr. West resided at No. 96 Thames street for 17 years. He spent some time at the Soldiers' home at Noroton because of his health. He was married in New Haven on Nov. 7, 1871, to Agnes J. McNaught. Mr. West was the last of his immediate family. During his service under arms he was known as a true and faithful soldier and as a workman he was conscientious and painstaking. As a man he was honored for his temperate habits and noble character. He was always pleasant, well disposed towards his neighbors, kind and ever devoted to his wife.

DEATH OF MAJOR BELA P. LEARNED

One of Norwich's Most Prominent Citizens Passed Peacefully Away at Midnight—Had been in Poor Health for Sometime—Conspicuous War Record.

Bela Peck Learned, one of Norwich's most prominent citizens, passed away at his home, No. 180 Broadway, at midnight Monday night at the age of 73. Mr. Learned has been in poor health for a long time with Bright's disease and heart trouble, but has been able to be about and within a short time became so bad that a number of months ago he gave up many of the responsibilities which he had held, and the end was very peaceful just at midnight. His death marks the passing of a man of noble ideas and efforts, whose life has been spent in this city, where he was identified with ant of the company. He was promoted to first lieutenant of Company A, May 26, 1862; was made adjutant of the regiment October 12, 1862; promoted to captain of Company I, January 2, 1865; and on April 9 of the same year, was breveted major. He was mustered out of the United States service September 25, 1865, with an honorable war record. The engagements of the first heavy artillery regiment of Yorktown, Va., April 30 to May 4, 1862; Hampton Court House, Va., May 27, 1862; Gaines Hill, Va., May 21 to June 30, 1862; Chickahominy, Va., June 25, 1862; Golden Hill, Va., June 27, 1862; Malvern Hill, Va., July 1, 1862; siege of Fredericksburg, Va., December 11-15, 1862 (Companies I and M); before Fredericksburg, Va., June 5 to 12, 1863 (Company M); Kelley's Ford, Va., (Company M), November 8, 1863; Orange Court House, Va., (Company B), November 30, 1864; siege of Petersburg and Richmond, Va., May, 1864; to April, 1865; Fort Fisher, N. C., January 14 and 15, 1865 (Companies B, G and L).

Major Learned returned to Norwich in October, 1865, and has since been successfully engaged in the insurance business. He has held many positions of trust and honor, among them that of vice president of the Norwich Savings society and trustee of the Norwich Free Academy. He was a past commander of Sedgwick post, No. 1, G. A. R., past junior vice commander of the department of Connecticut, a member of the Army and Navy club of Connecticut, and a companion of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States; a member of the Sons of the American Revolution; lieutenant governor of the Society of Colonial Wars, in the state of Connecticut; past president of the Society of Founders of Norwich. He was a member of Park Congregational church, and had for a long time been particularly active in its affairs, serving as deacon up to the time of his death, and was honorary superintendent of the Sunday school. He was a Republican politically. He also belonged to the Arcanum and Norwich clubs of this city, and the Graduate club of New Haven.

On October 21, 1867, he married May W. Bulkeley of this city, by whom he has survived, together with three children, Mrs. George T. Howland, Ebenezer Learned and Mrs. Grosvenor Ely, all of Norwich. He leaves several grandchildren.

From 1858 to 1861 he was assistant secretary of the Norwich Fire Insurance company and in 1863 he was made second lieutenant of the Fourth U. S. artillery, of the regular army, but declined the office.

Major Learned took a deep interest in music, being a musician and singer of ability. He was a keen business man and had a long established insurance business in which his son has for a number of years been associated. He was a man of high ideals and character, whose worth to the city was immeasurable. He found great delight in his home, where his interest centered, while in church work he was ever prominent. For many years he was a member of the choir of Park church. He took a deep interest in matters connected with colonial history and was a close student of genealogies. His ancestors were among the founders of Norwich and matters dealing with the early history of this town were ever of vital interest to him.

MAJOR BELA PECK LEARNED.

The best endeavors in the church life, musical and business circles. His death removes a citizen who will be sincerely missed.
Major Learned was born of Ebenezer and Matilda Harbut Learned, being one of three children and the last of the family. His father, who was a merchant, started in the mercantile business here but later studied law and opened an office here which he conducted until he became a judge of the Superior Court. He was identified with the most important interests of the city and his death occurred July 20, 1887.

The deceased is a descendant of the old Killington, Conn., branch of the Learned family, whose name is prominent in the Pilgrim Fathers.
